

How do I publish my site?

Publishing your site makes it visible to other web users. All your pages will be published unless you set the Page Status to Inactive or Draft. See Selective Publication. XXX link required

If this is the first time your site has been published, you may need to enter a subdomain name for your site (1). If the domain is available, click Select this subdomain (2)

Viewing your published site

After publishing, your site will now be visible at the domain you entered. To see your published site without logging out, open a different web browser and go to the domain.
